Welcome

MADEININDONESIA.COM aims to serve as a one-stop shop digital Platform to simplify exporting from Indonesia while assisting International buyers in B2B sourcing and procurement.

Indonesia is the world's biggest island nation, endowed with months of rain each year and volcanoes that provide rich ground for a diverse range of plants to develop. Having said that, Indonesia is one of the largest producers of agricultural products, supplying a variety of commodities to the global market. Cocoa, coffee, edible oil, fruits, spices, and tea are some of Indonesia's well-known agricultural goods.

From Gayo coffee in Aceh, Sumatra to Java coffee in Java, Kintamani coffee in Bali, Toraja coffee in Sulawesi, and Wamena coffee in Papua, there are numerous speciality coffees from Indonesia's diverse islands. Depending on the soil type and land elevation, each coffee has a distinct flavor and scent. The United States is the leading importer of Gayo coffee, according to Trade Ministry data.

Aside from coffee, both green and roasted, Indonesia produces a wide range of chocolate, edible oil, tropical fruits, spices, and tea. Since decades, Indonesia has been regarded as a spice manufacturer. Spices may be used as medication and raw materials for herbal medicine in addition to being used in cooking. It's hardly unexpected, given their benefits, that spices have become one of the commodities with great commercial worth.

To give a more comprehensive picture of various agricultural products, we have created this catalog, which includes all product-specific information. We hope that this catalog of Indonesian agricultural goods will provide you with further information and pique your interest in trying any of these fruits or drinks.

Here at Madeinindonesia.com, our pepper is either grown on our pepper estates in Vietnam and Brazil or secured through a farm level sourcing network managed in-origin by Madeinindonesia.com personnel in Vietnam, Indonesia, Cambodia, Brazil and Malaysia.
